

Her life was missing that certain je ne sais quoi...
And Paris was just the place to find it!

THE LAST TIME I SAW PARIS ELIZABETH ADLER

For anyone who has ever wanted to walk the Left Bank, eat croissants at a sidewalk café, have a picnic in the countryside, and steal moonlit kisses in front of the Eiffel Tower.

“The popular Adler gets the dynamics of a new relationship pitch-perfect...but it’s the detailed, realistic description of the trip to France that makes her latest great vicarious vacation reading.”

—Publishers Weekly

“A wonderful voyage depicting one woman’s struggle to regain her sense of self-worth and identity... Adler always excels at bringing vivid and lifelike characters into being.”

—Romantic Times

MARKETING

- National Print Advertising in Romantic Times
- Tie-in to hardcover publication of Summer in Tuscany
 - Consumer Giveaway
 - Postcard Mailing

0-312-98030-2 • $6.99 / $8.99 Can.
352 Pages • CTN: 48 • Spine: 28/32"